Information on handlebars, risers and technical reports

Handlebar recommendation:
The choice of handlebars depends on the physical characteristics of the rider, the desired riding position and other factors and add-on parts such as risers, triple clamps, footrest system, seat, handlebar riser kits etc.. For this reason, we cannot make any recommendations when selecting handlebars.

Does the handlebar fit with the original brake lines, cables and electric cables?
We have no information about which handlebars can be fitted on which motorcycle with the original brake lines, cables and electric cables, or whether they need to be extended. We recommend that you seek advice from an experienced workshop.
Handlebars with ABE (without approval) are an exception. In this case, the handlebars fit the motorcycles listed in the usage list without further modifications if the motorcycle is in its original condition.

Mounting the fittings:
Our handlebars have no holes for fixing the fittings and no threads for handlebar weights. Depending on the desired position of the fittings, holes for fixing the fittings must be drilled by the rider.
Commercially available handlebar weights with a clamping device can be fitted.

Shortening the grip ends on our handlebars:
We have no objections to shortening the handlebar ends. The prerequisite is that the grip ends are shortened by the same length on both sides and that the remaining grip piece is long enough to accommodate the fittings.
We recommend that you discuss any shortening with the inspector beforehand. If the installation instructions listed in the TGA / TB are observed, we have no objections to registration.

Handlebar holder / riser:
The clamping diameter must correspond to the handlebar diameter.

Expert technical reports:
You can download current TGA / TB on our website under "Service". In each TGA / TB you will find a list of the points that need to be observed during a conversion.

Some handlebars are supplied with 2 certificates. In the TGA the handlebar is tested, in the TB the extension for the special variant of the handlebar is included or an alternative type number.

On the reverse you will find a list of the different types of certificates with information on which inspectors are permitted to carry out the registrations.

Dimensions: Technical dimensions

a Overall width
b Height at the end of the outer bend, with vertical handlebars.
(The dimensions in the mounting position may vary considerably)
c Depth to the rear, with vertical handlebars.
(The dimensions in the mounting position may vary considerably)
d Height at the end of the grip, with handlebars in vertical position.
(The dimensions in the mounting position may vary considerably)
e Measured at the intersection of the outer edges of the tubes

2. TGA (with restriction to certain motorcycle models) according to § 19/3.
   (From 2004, new TGAs may only be created with the restriction to certain motorcycle models)

   a. The motorcycle is listed for the handlebars

   The inspectors of TÜV, Dekra, GTÜ and other organizations who have been trained as
   AAS (Officially recognized expert)
   AASMT (Officially recognized expert with partial authorization)

3. TGA (without restriction to motorcycle models) according to § 19/3
   (Until the end of 2003, TGAs could be issued without restriction to certain motorcycle models)

   These parts certificates have the intended use "universal" according to handlebar tube diameter and / or Motorcycles with vehicle and body type
   09 (motorcycle, light motorcycle, moped, mokick),
   19 (motorcycle with sidecar)
   25 (motorcycles)
   and are not restricted to certain motorcycle models.

   AAS (officially recognized expert)
   AASMT (officially recognized expert with partial authorization)
   USB (Authorized Technical Service)
   PI (test engineer)
   are authorized to carry out an attachment test.

4. ABE (without mounting test)
   (Can only be issued if the handlebars can be fitted without further modifications).

   The motorcycle is listed for the handlebars:
   No fitting test necessary, the ABE must be carried.

   The motorcycle is not listed for the handlebars:
   Acceptance as under point 1.
   Many testing organizations also accept an attachment test as under point 3.

If several items are combined (handlebars, risers, brake lines, etc.), an installation test must always be carried out in accordance with § 19/2.
